[letter from Jane Chambers to Ann Lashbrook; letter addressed to Mifs Ann Lashbrooke,
Washington, Ky, postmarked Paris, KY, Dec 25]

Dear Ann

I will excuse you for not writing a longer as you had the toothache for I know how severe it is but you must write a longer one next time my throat is slightly sore at this time and has been for several days but that will not prevent my drinking eggnog in the morning. Sister cares so little about it herself that she will not make any bets [?] says I and Mr Brent make as much as we please and we are so fond of it that we are determined to have some even if we should have to lose a morning nap. I wish you and ok F. [?] and some more of the girls were here sometimes to join me in making candy and cakes &c for I make any good thing I was wish and at any time I please.

Christmas gift for you Ann and you must catch all the girls for one tomorrow Ann you must write often and longer letters

I remain your dear friend

Jane Chambers
