Online Celebration of Student Research and Creative Activity

December 3 8:00 AM to December 4 8:00 PM

https://nku.instructure.com/enroll/NFJ6BX

NKU Institute for Student Research and Creative Activity

The Online Celebration for Student Research and Creative Activity is designed for students who have worked on research or creative projects and want to present their work online. Any NKU student can participate. Displaying a VoiceThread (VT) video poster or short slide show, student presenters explain their work and answer questions from conference online participants.

The online conference will take place on a Canvas platform. Beginning Tuesday, December 3 at 8:00 am, it will be asynchronous and open for 36 hours.

Presentations will be due by 8:00 PM on Tuesday, November 26. Students will use VoiceThread to create the posters and commentary. Presenter commentary should be no longer than 4 minutes. In addition to submitting high quality presentations, presenters will be expected to

- log into the Canvas page with the presentations 3-4 times over the course of the open conference.
- comment and engage at least three of their fellow presenters.
- answer the questions and address the comments on their own presentations

To join the conference as a presenter or participant use the URL https://nku.instructure.com/enroll/NFJ6BX. More information can be found at nku.edu/OLCelebration.
