Jack Moreland Addresses Staff Congress

Interim President Jack Moreland spoke at the July Staff Congress meeting and articulated his desire to see that staff and faculty received their pay increase this year. The administration has announced that raises this year would be linked to enrollment figures for the fall semester.

Mr. Moreland said he was optimistic that the pay increase would become a reality.

Regarding his plans for his year as interim president, Mr. Moreland spoke of his desire to see NKU progress. "If you sit still, you regress," he said. He also spoke enthusiastically about his NKU Partnerships plan.

Mr. Moreland spoke positively of his face to face discussion with Governor Paul Patton concerning state funding for NKU. Patton reassured Mr. Moreland that state funding would increase as long as, "We are ready to change the way we do things." One specific criteria for this change is an increased use of technology.

Mr. Moreland credited Staff Congress leaders with the idea of the floating holiday in an effort to increase staff morale.

Q & A With Staff Congress President Cheryl Torline

What are your goals for Staff Congress and how will you attain them?

"My goal is to work for the betterment of all staff by hard work and a positive attitude."

Do you think staff morale is a problem? If so, what can Staff Congress do to address it?

"Yes, I do. We need to keep working for benefits for staff."

What is your opinion of term limits for Staff Congress members?

"If we could get more people interested in Staff Congress, we wouldn't have to limit terms. People would want to be on Congress and you would have different people coming in each term."

How do we get more people interested in Staff Congress?

"By working on quality issues and commitments for staff."

Gov. Patton on Campus

Governor Paul Patton will address the NKU community August 14, in Greaves Hall at 11:00 AM. Plan to show your support for NKU by being in attendance.

PARTNERSHIPS UPDATE

Staff Congress President Cheryl Torline is asking for input from as many staff members as possible. As a member of the Partnerships Steering Committee, Ms. Torline encourages staff to get involved, offering their own ideas on improving their departments.

Northern Kentucky University is initiating a new project called NKU PARTNERSHIPS. The NKU PARTNERSHIPS project will create teams of individuals from the Northern Kentucky area to evaluate the University's departmental programs, services and delivery systems as well as to identify the region's future needs for postsecondary education. The goals of the project are to make Northern Kentucky University more effective, more efficient and more responsive to the community it serves. Each of the communication teams will be comprised of NKU faculty and staff members in cooperation with representatives from business, education and community services.

NKU would like to have your participation in this important project.

The following is a list of the various University departments to be reviewed. If you are willing to assist NKU by serving on one of the communication teams, please print your name, address and phone number on this form and mail or fax it to the address listed below. You are asked to indicate the areas in which you would be willing to work by numbering your preferences as 1, 2 or 3. If you have questions or would like additional information, call Peter Hollister at 572-5129.
