

At Kitty Hawk

by Karah Stokes

At first I didn't believe it there was nothing

between me
and the ground
but the wind

I was flying
had been for some time

And I knew
once I got down I'd go right back up again
there was nothing
between me
and flight

but empty air