

Hummingbird On My Finger

by James B. Goode

—For Chris Murphy

It comes
with silent blurred
and whirring wings
a vibrant
red of racing heart
an engine's
tiny fluttering
beats beneath
fluorescent greens and reds it sits upon my finger tips deftly pulling me
to
find in everything
no matter the size
something divine.