President's Report by Linda Wright

The new health insurance rates have been discussed in great detail. As a result of many calls from staff members, a memo outlining staff concerns was sent to administration. Memos expressing similar concerns were also sent by faculty. We have received a response from the acting Vice President for Administrative Affairs. It is the view of that office and the president's office that the rates are fair and will not change. If you wish more details or to review this correspondence, please contact any staff congress representative.

Our Staff Congress legislative liaison committee was represented this month in Lexington at a meeting of Kentucky universities. In addition to an informational pamphlet, each university is preparing a resolution to be sent to legislators. The signed resolutions will ask for support in obtaining staff representation on the Boards of Regents. These universities are scheduled to meet again in January.

The transportation advisory committee has reported that additional spaces within lots B and C will be available for staff and faculty as a short-term effort to ease parking problems next semester.

Some changes to the process and criteria of the annual staff congress scholarships have been approved. Recipients may receive a scholarship for one year only. Specific grade point averages will not be considered; students must, however, be in good academic standing and remain in good standing during the award year. Emphasis will be placed on an essay containing career goals and justification for the scholarship. These changes were made to allow as many staff children and spouses to make use of the scholarships as possible. The committee is still fine-tuning specifics, and these will be reported shortly. APPLICATION FORMS WILL BE AVAILABLE IN MARCH.

The following changes to the Staff Congress election process have been approved: Nominations will be posted daily on the Staff Congress office door; eligible staff employees will be able to vote the entire ballot.

Reminder: The next Board of Regents meeting is January 26, 4:00 p.m., 8th Floor Administrative Center board room.

We hope you all have Happy, Joyful and Safe Holidays!
