

Playing Dolls

by John Cantey Knight

Corn shucks and cloth made her a pretty baby.
Yellow yarn and buttons completed the face.

Corn liquor and torn clothes made her a baby.
Two slaps and a black eye colored her face.